

RUNNING THEATER A STRENUOUS JOB THIRTY YEARS AGO

Troubles of Management With One Unruly Company Re- called in Story

A story scene took place at the La Crosse theater some thirty years ago, not long after the opening of the new show house. The row resulting when a traveling troupe presenting "O'lowd's Neighbors" tried to play a snap game on the audience. They were foiled in their attempt.

Following is a contemporary account of the mixup: "The audience which occupied the La Crosse theater had a double entertainment last evening and seemed to enjoy it. If one may judge by the applause and words of encouragement which came from all parts of the house, the first intimation of the double bill which was to be presented, was the appearance of Mark Murphy in the beginning of the second act who addressed the audience as follows:

"Ladies and gentlemen, the manager of this opera house is on the stage and trying his best to hinder the performance. He prevents us using some of the scenery and has a policeman with him, who has no business to be here. Now we intend to give this play entire, but the cause of the trouble is this: A train is being held for us to leave at 10:45, and we began a few minutes earlier in order to get through. Now, ladies and gentlemen, we leave it to you to say if we shall go on with the play, or stop and give you your money back."

Another Scene

"The next scene was somewhat different. Captain Moulton stood up in one of the balcony boxes and addressed the audience. He stated that the manager of the theater had asked him to state to the people that the theater company was trying to make the play, and he was trying to make them give it in full. While Captain Moulton was speaking, some of the show people gathered in front of the curtain, and when he sat down they told their side of the story. The treasurer and manager of the company said the company had appeared before more than 500 audiences in that play; it was a good one, and he would give $500 to anyone who could prove that the play had been out. The fact is, said he, the house has an inexperienced manager, who is backed by dead-head trustees who do not know anything about the business, and he has been playing the snob ever since we began here."

"The curtain finally dropped on the last act and the audience passed out. At the door it was learned that no settlement had yet been made and two or three hundred people hung about the house to see the end. They were asked to get out of the way and the doors were closed. Trouble was expected, but did not occur, for in a short time the manager of the company came out of the house with his money. In regard to the play being out, Mr. Oscar Anderson stated to Postmaster Scott that he had seen the same company in Minneapolis and they gave it here exactly the same as there.

"The audience at the theater last evening permitted itself to be deceived by the false statements of the manager of the O'lowd troupe, and foolishly manifested approval of his boisterous remarks about the manager and the directors of the theater company. This troupe, in order to get out of town on a 10:30 (not 10:45) train attempted to cut down the play and rush it along in a slipshod way, and for their efforts to prevent this imposition the manager and directors of the theater were, for the time, condemned by the audience. Whenever the play of 'O'lowd's Neighbors' is given in full, two hours and a half are consumed. It is foolish to suppose it could be acceptably well played in La Crosse in an hour and three quarters or even two hours. It is a good rule to have been tried, and because a few men advanced their money to build a creditable theater in La Crosse they should not be howled down at the call of an irresponsible tramp who is tearing the country for the money there is in the job.

"The manager did his duty to his patrons and was sustained by the board of directors, who acted the part of honorable men toward the patrons and their action, which is built all the material interests of this nation.—Hoard.

LA CROSSE TRIBUNE AND LEADER-PRESS

GOVERNOR TO READ ARBOR DAY MESSAGE DIRECTLY TO PEOPLE

Blaine to Deliver Proclamation Via Radiophone Next Friday Evening

MADISON, Wis., April 22.—For the first time in the history of Wisconsin, its governor will deliver a proclamation directly to the people via the radiophone. This breaking of precedent will occur next Friday evening when Gov. John J. Blaine will address the invisible audience that stretches across the states and Canada as well as Wisconsin. Gov. Blaine will read his Arbor Day proclamation and give a short address asking for special observance of the day, May 5.

Gov. Blaine will talk to approximately 1,000 receiving sets in the state. It is probable that friends will be invited in by these receiving set owners so that the talk will be heard by several thousand in the state.

The speech will be made from the station at the University which is the most powerful state institution transmitting set in the country. Gov. Blaine will follow the musical program which is the weekly feature from 8 to 9 each Friday. It will be sent out on a wave length of 300 meters about 8:05 that evening.

WOMAN ELECTED ON SLATE SHE FOUGHT MAY NOT ACCEPT

FREEDPORT, Ill.—Mrs. Mildred Brandt, elected to office on a ticket which she had opposed during the recent campaign in the village of Winslow, has announced that she will not accept the position of police magistrate to which she is entitled as the result of the balloting.

Mrs. Brandt supported a woman's ticket during the campaign in opposition to a man's ticket. The election resulted in a sweeping victory for the man's ticket and also in the election of Mrs. Brandt, whose name was written in by the voters on the man's ticket.

Mrs. Brandt was an active participant in the campaign for the People's ticket composed entirely of women. Also in the field was a citizens' ticket, composed of men. On the ballots prepared by the city clerk the man's ticket was completed with the exception of two vacancies, one of which was for police magistrate. In this vacancy the voters apparently wrote in the name of Mrs. Brandt.

One Explanation
"But, what's an explanation?" "That's plain, you want a 'woman's ticket' when you want to show that you want at the top game when you want to be a man."

ST. LOUIS POLICE BOARD TO DEPOSE MILLER AS CHIEF

ST. LOUIS, Mo.—Victor J. Miller will be deposed as president of the St. Louis board of police commissioners next Tuesday, it was announced Saturday following a statement by Gov. Hyde that Mr. Miller "had forfeited public confidence and thereby seriously impaired his own usefulness. When told of the action decided upon, Mr. Miller reiterated, 'I will not resign under any circumstances.'

The action of the governor is said to have been a result of Mr. Miller's charges that vice clubs existed at Soldan high school which is attended by children of wealthy St. Louisans. At a subsequent investigation conducted by a parents' committee of the school Mr. Miller was unable to substantiate the charges.

WOMAN GIVEN RANK OF LIEUTENANT IN THE TURKISH ARMY

CONSTANTINOPLE.—A Turkish woman has been given the rank of lieutenant in the nationalist army, earning her promotion in action against the Greeks, says an Angora dispatch. This is the highest rank ever held in the Turkish army by a woman.

Patria, the lady in question, was a corporal when she led a patrol composed almost entirely of women in an attack on the enemy's rear and returned with twenty-five prisoners.

lieutenant governor. There has been no mention of opposition to the candidacy of Mr. Young among opponents of the La Follette faction of the republican party.

Mr. Young is a banker and druggist of Darien. Before being elected to the assembly in 1919, he had held no other public office except that of town clerk from 1887 to 1894. He is a native of Walworth county, having been born at Sharon. His residence has been at Darien since 1886.

In the assembly Mr. Young was the leader of the forces opposed to the La Follette progressives, and was twice elected speaker of the lower house over their candidates. He is one of the leaders of the republican party in the state.

CLAIM PRODUCTS OF FARM PAY TOO HIGH RAIL RATES

Congressional Commission Urges Reduction in Farm Shipment Costs

WOULD KEEP UP RATES ON OTHER LINES TO MAKE CUT

Suggest Wage Reductions in the Coal Industry

WASHINGTON. — Transportation rates on products of agriculture, as on many other commodities now "bear a disproportionate relation to the price of such commodities," and should immediately be reduced, according to findings of the joint congressional commission of agricultural inquiry announced Saturday by Chairman Anderson. Not only should these freight charges come down the report declared, but in the future rate making bodies and railroad traffic officers should give "greater consideration to the relative value of commodities in the making of rates," and let existing charges on high priced finished products stand, it is necessary to remove cost burdens from basic materials.

Three Specific Proposals

Outside of its general conclusions, the commission advanced three specific proposals for farmers, the first being the enlargement of "competitive services of distribution through which the largest number of consumers can reasonably be reached;" the second was the extension of "through rates on grain" to points of consumption through two or more competitive primary markets; and the third the extension of the principle that coarse grains, such as corn, should take lower charges than breadstuffs. Adequate car equipment should also be maintained, it was added.

The commission found that "fluctuations show marked fluctuations in shipment volume" and that railroads, stockyards and shippers should cooperate to even out the supply at market points, thus preventing price and charge fluctuations while they, as the bulkier farm commodity, required a reduction in other freight and sales margin before there can be resumption of normal shipments. Costs on livestock distribution also must be brought down, it was held.

Rate Small Factor to Dairymen
On dairy products the commission concluded that freight charges had not had so serious an effect as upon some other farm stuffs.

Moving to the study of indirect freight costs affecting farmers, as they enhance prices of things farmers buy, Chairman Anderson said that "fertilizer prices were found to be close to pre-war basis except for freight costs." Factory prices of farm implements, it was concluded, "are now rapidly receding to a lower price level," but freight rates now accumulate to the point of being fifteen percent of the price farmers pay for machinery, while before the war the freight charge constituted but seven percent.

Coal and steel, being of "intimate interest" to the farming consuming population, the commission likewise declared that freight charges on steel represented 41 percent of its cost, while bituminous coal should be subjected to "reductions in mine prices, freight rates and sales margins." Wages in the last named industry, it was added, "should be considered in the light of prevailing economic conditions" and marketing methods improved.

Lumber Suggestion
As to lumber, it was suggested that railroads could "better afford" assessment of relatively higher rates on short haul business to give needed relief to long haul traffic," while petroleum products were found to be "inflated," "little, if at all," by freight exactions.

OBJECT TO THE GERMAN TREATY NOTE

It is reported that the Russian delegation is sending another letter to the conference explaining at greater length in what way the Russian memorandum is modified by M. Chicherin's reply to the allied conditions. The French delegation issued a communication declaring that the three documents recently made public, namely, Germany's answer to the allies, Russia's answer to the allies, and Russia's memorandum in reply to the London experts' report, obliged France to register formal reservation.

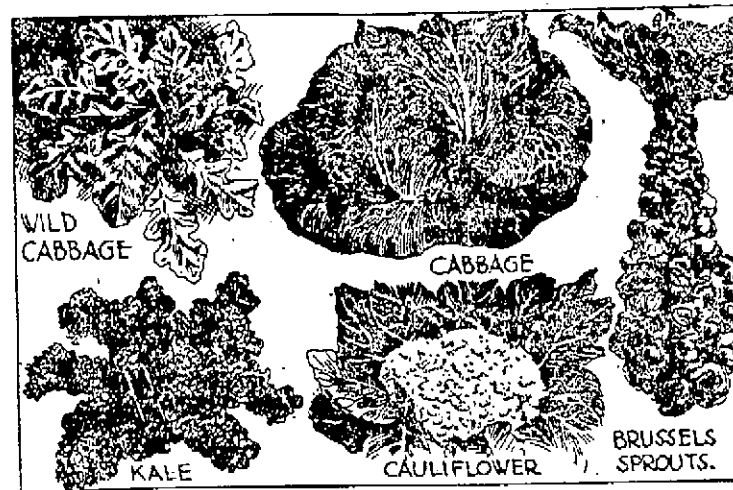

Attack German Reply

"The least one can say of the German answer," says the communiqué, "is that far from calming doubts and suspicion it confirms them by reason of its equivocal character and by its contradictions. Dr. Wirth insisted that the Russo-German treaty was concluded after the German had heard of the unofficial negotiations which were held at the Villa de Albert. The Germans believing these negotiations would prove hostile to German interests. Later, however, the German chancellor admits that the treaty was practically arranged for after the Genoa conference.

"We are therefore justified," continues the French communiqué, "in thinking that the Russo-German accord was in reality an arm which the Russian and German delegations brought to Genoa in their baggage to be utilized at the first propitious moment. How much weight, under these circumstances, can be attached to the protestations of solidarity and sincerity made by Dr. Wirth?"

The HOME GARDEN

What is Home without a Garden?

CABBAGE A CAVE MAN'S FAVORITE

Corned buffalo hump and cabbage probably served as many a cave man's Sunday dinner.

The cabbage has been esteemed as a vegetable for 1,843 years that we know of, a ripe old age. Buried somewhere in the annals of its history is the head of the cabbage and the reason thereof.

We are indebted to Pliny, the elder, the famous Roman scientist, who wrote the first "Natural History," for the earliest accurate mention of the cabbage as a vegetable and we know about when he stopped writing which was in 79 A. D., when he lost his life in the destruction of Pompeii.

The cabbage, cauliflower, brussels sprout, the kale and kohlrabi probably are all descended from a wild plant native to the sea cliffs of western and southern Europe. Its Latin name is Brassica Oleracea.

In its native state it has a loose rosette of large thick leaves for the storage of surplus moisture. It may collect when it rains and these leaves, unlike the cabbage of the garden, are long and deeply lobed. They vary in color from green to red. They described several types of cabbage and it is altogether likely, according to the best authorities, that cabbages man trace the communiqué says: "If for instance the conference discusses the formation of a consortium or of some reconstruction, Germany apparently expects to participate. This, however, is quite contrary to what the allies indicated in Germany."

Criticize Russian Reply

Passing to the soviet's answer to the allies' statement of conditions, the communiqué declares this answer contains equivocations and contradictions. The powers had told the Russians they could not accept the soviet demands for indemnity, that the allies would admit a reduction only in the war debts, that they would make no concessions concerning private property, and finally that the allies would insist upon the restitution of confiscated property or adequate indemnity. The communiqué points out, to this the Russians forwarded their reply, but their compliance, it is noted, was conditional upon the recognition of financial help and recognition of the role of the soviet government.

"It seems clear," continues the communiqué, "that the soviet government demanded by the soviet government does not conform with the Cannes resolutions, acceptance of which by Russia was not dependent upon any conditions." The Russians, it is declared, had completely twisted the proposition and their attitude was unacceptable to France.

"Besides answering the allied conditions," the communiqué goes on, "the Russian delegation made public a memorandum concerning the report of the London experts, which seems absolutely in contradiction with their note accepting the allies' terms. Does this memorandum, which is couched in violent language and seems to breathe a spirit of defiance, express the true thought of the Russian delegation?"

The communiqué remarks that the memorandum may be merely propaganda, but it calls attention to the fact that the Russians agreed to abstain from all propaganda in Genoa. The communiqué concludes: "From all this it would seem that the game of the Russians and the Germans has developed the Genoa conference in an atmosphere of intrigue, suspicion and combinations. The very documents published do not dispel the impression that a war has been eaten its way into the fruit which Genoa will offer to the world and which may well prove to be the apple of discord."

FISH RESCUE STATION

LAW TO PRESIDENT

Representative John M. Nelson of Madison probably will be the first member of the house delegation to return to the state. With Mrs. Nelson he will go to La Crosse early in June to address the Triennial International convention of the Young People's Lutheran League of the Northwestern Lutheran church. The convention takes place on June 8 to 11. Other speakers scheduled to appear are Governor Blaine, Governor J. O. Dress of Minnesota, and Governor R. A. Nestes of North Dakota.

Byron Nelson, the congressman's were in general use before the Aryans migrated westward. It was probably a cave man's favorite.

Moved from the meager sustenance of the dry cliffs where it dwelt and planted in richer, deeper soil, the cabbage grew enormously, developed a stem and by the more speed of its growth developed a head. The cauliflower probably tried to make leaves and flowers at the same time and compromised with the white "curd" which is a thickened, flattened overgrown flower cluster.

The history of the development of the cabbage gives the key to its culture. The richer the soil and the faster it is kept growing, the larger and stouter the heads. It must be grown fast to head fast. If through lack of fertility or drought its growth is checked, there is either no real head or a loose, very inferior one, the whole strength of the plant going to develop such leaves as it had produced before the check. The Chinese cabbage is an entirely different species from the common cabbage and its brothers.

Cabbages and their relatives are known as Brassicas to the English gardening experts, that being their Latin name, as choux to the French and as kohls or kraut to the Germans.

oldest son, will be ordained early in June at the Reformed Lutheran church in Madison. He expects to enter the ministry at Coon Rapids, Minn., where he has been offered a position as student pastor of the University of Washington.

O. H. Johnson has resigned as secretary of Mr. Nelson to enter the real estate business at his home in Burlington. He will enter a partnership with William Wilson, whose partner, E. J. McDonnell, recently died.

Captain Clarence Penn

formerly of Merrill, and for some years secretary to Mr. Penn, is now stationed here at Coon Rapids, Minn., prior to entering upon his service in the army. Captain Penn was for a long time identified with Wisconsin politics. He became secretary to Mr. Penn after service in a similar capacity to former Congressman Morse.

Mr. Penn was one of two republicans on the ways and means committee who voted in committee against reporting the administration bill on the floor. He did not file a minority report.

The measure proposes that this country take of the debt held by other foreign countries in Liberia the extent of about $1,000,000 and loan $5,000,000 to the African republic. In the opinion of Mr. Penn the measure sets a bad precedent.

The action of the senate finance committee in increasing the duty on coconut oil from 2 cents to 7 cents will be a boon to the dairy farmers of Wisconsin, according to Representative Joseph D. Beck of Viroqua. This product is one of the essential ingredients of "filled milk," he said. Mr. Beck said the demand for legislation wiping out the "filled milk" business was becoming so insistent, as demonstrated by petitions from all parts of the country, that congress could not afford to postpone action much longer.

With one exception the Wisconsin delegation in the house supported the appropriations committee in the fight for a new amendment of $2,000,000 to the amendment, adopted by vote of 221 to 148 to increase the personnel to $6,000, the delegation voted as follows:

For the amendment—Classen, Brown, Cramer, Kierka, A. P. Nelson, J. M. Nelson, Pratt, Stafford, Voigt.

Not voting—Lampert.

COMPERS PLEDGES TO AID REVISION OF UNION SYSTEM

only one man was required for the job he should receive a foreman's wages.

All of these practices Mr. Compers declared to be "unwise, regrettable and unjustifiable."

Regulation of the unions would not, however, he asserted, "because, whereas an employers organization is formed for profit and deals in products, commodities and manufactures, the union deals in the disposition of human effort, and is engaged in an eternal struggle to improve conditions for the laboring man."

THE WEEK

convicts who through silly sentimentalism or seditions sympathies attempted to make a mess out of the war. Some of them have been released on pardon, and others, as in the case of Mrs. O'Hara, are freed on commutation of sentence. Mrs. O'Hara expected to be followed by an uprising of people in her prison "march." Doubtless she thought her plan would stir the nation to its depths. As a matter of fact her entourage includes between 10 and 50 people out of the 100,000,000 who constitute the nation. Many of us believe that these war rodents should be released. Why feed them in ill-health, when they should be at work? Why dignify them by a martyrdom which they lack the stature to deserve? But they should not be released at the request of Mrs. O'Hara and her scanty following. She and her ilk constitute the only reasons for not liberating them, for they have abused their regained liberty in a way, not to damage, but to annoy.

The writer has been asked why the State Journal drew a distinction between radical propagandists speaking before a university club, and in the state capital. The question seems to answer itself. The University is the symbol of knowledge. Examination and research are its business. It need not be afraid to scrutinize all things frankly, for it should be the sieve to separate truth from the falsehood. But the state capital is the symbol of government—the government which was obliged to suppress Mrs. O'Hara lest she aid in its destruction. She sought, not the capital's protection, but the vindication of its hospitality, and this the custodians of the capital had no right to give.

Secretaries Fall and Denby, if current report is reliable, are not convinced that history repeats itself.

They have opened naval reserve oil lands in Wyoming to private interests. A similar policy is being adopted in Alaska. Ballinger, who was Mr. Taft's Secretary Fall, reversed Roosevelt's conservation program and opened naval oil and mineral lands in Wyoming and Alaska to the public. Everyone remembers the "Lafayette" worst. Heaten candidate for a presidential election in history. The senate has demanded the records and will review the proceeding said to have been instituted by Secretaries Fall and Denby. Even the senate recalls the value of oil conservation for the navy, though probably it is not deeply imbued with the public's rights in the matter. One may commend the experience of Secretary Ballinger to Secretary Fall with the observation that "what was the Fall thereof?"

American homes are interested in the action of Will Hays, director of the motion picture industry, in interrupting the efforts of promoters to restore Patsy Arbuckle to the screen.

Mr. Hays doubts the accuracy of Arbuckle's statement that he has been "completely vindicated." Perhaps Mr. Hays feels the fact that juries until most of the substantial witnesses had disappeared is significant. The public anticipates that his judgment will not be guided purely by the evidence of a specific crime, but will be controlled in part by the general moral status of the man. Nonetheless Mr. Hays knows that his advertised plan to "clean up the movies" would lose standing were he to begin the "clean up" by the release statement of Arbuckle. And beyond this question of mere expedience the people of the United States have confidence in the moral integrity and the social vision of Mr. Hays.

Hit at Politics

As the theme of the dinner to the approaching political campaign, the presence of Chairman Adams, Chairman Hall, gave additional zest to the jobs impartially given by parties. The political skill was a combination of songs and dialogues presented by club members seated around a stove in the "Squash" for Cash Grocery.

"When the women really began to vote," remarked one of the farmers with tears in his eyes, "we all have to buy all of our tobacco from a bootlegger."

A song depicting the retention of the democratic postmaster and replying pleading "for the jobs that are needed," was sung with good spirit. Several pertinent and pertinent inquiries were referred to the man in the moon.

"Why the man in the moon?" some one asked.

"Well," was the reply, "we find out Harding passed the buck to congress and congress passes the buck to President Harding. We have to pass the buck to the man in the moon."

Congress was dealt with in a parody on the old song, "What can the matter be?"

Europe is getting on her feet, but on her feet.

LADY ASTOR GIVES HIGH PRAISE TO ARMS CONFERENCE

Declares Whole World is Now Looking to Washington and Will Continue

BALTIMORE, Md.—Almost all the young ladies and the older ladies attending the Pan-American conference of women seemed to quit listening attentively to the speakers as soon as Lady Astor appeared on the platform Saturday afternoon. Less than ten minutes after she had stepped off a train from New York, Lady Astor, the suffrage leader, Mrs. Chapman Catt introduced Lady Astor as "the best known woman in the world today, and one whom everybody knows that knows her," saying the ladies that she had heard of.

"I have been quoted as saying: 'I didn't think much of the Washington conference. I think much of the Washington conference.'" Lady Astor said emphatically. "Why, I think it was the beginning of civilization. The whole world is looking to Washington, and the whole world is waiting to keep on looking to Washington. I think the whole world ought to be grateful to President Harding, to Secretary Hughes and to administration."

U. S. AMBASSADOR RE-OPENS RELATIONS WITH NEW GERMANY

BERLIN.—By The Associated Press.—The American embassy in Wilhelmplatz again houses a fully accredited ambassador, the concluding formality of effecting complete and formal restoration of diplomatic relations between the United States and Germany having been disposed of at noon Saturday, when Ambassador Houghton placed in the hands of President Ebert his letters of credence, designating him "ambassador extraordinary and plenipotentiary of the United States government to Germany."

FAKE OLIVE OIL IS BETTER GRAFT THAN BOOTLEGGING HOOSH

NEW YORK.—Health Commissioner Copeland Saturday announced discovery by research workers in his department of an illegal business "more profitable than bootlegging." It is the adulterating of olive oil, which Dr. Copeland said was assuming huge proportions. Seventeen percent of all the oil already examined by the department has been found to be adulterated, he said. Corned oil and other oils used in the adulteration process yield a profit of more than 300 percent when sold as olive oil, he declared.

AUTO NEWS AND GOSSIP

Co-operating with the Auto Club of La Crosse, the merchants of the Chamber of Commerce took noteworthy action at their last monthly dinner and meeting when it decided to order city signs directing the way to La Crosse to be placed on main travel roads entering this city. At present these signs are established on the road passing through this territory bound to strike La Crosse in his travels. If he gets within a radius of thirty miles. All roads lead to La Crosse in this neck of the woods and tourists will be impressed with this fact, once the signs are erected.

Not Affiliated Here
It was called to the attention of the La Crosse Auto Club during the past week that a number of local citizens had joined the Wisconsin Automobile Association, under the impression that the local club was affiliated with this organization. The La Crosse Auto Club has not affiliated with the association as a club because it was felt that members here would not get a great benefit from the association, which is working largely for the benefit of autoists of Milwaukee and vicinity.

Trail is Routed
Decision to route the Black and Yellow trail over the road from La Crosse to Wisconsin through Stockton and Lewiston west to the state line and on to Yellowstone park, was made by T. G. Bonnalie of Tracy, Minn., president of the association, at a meeting of representatives at the Association of Commerce rooms in Wisconsin. This trail passes through La Crosse.

The decision was made following an inspection of parts of the route. E. L. Tompkins and C. A. Bolton, secretary of the Association of Commerce, accompanied Mr. Bonnalie on his inspection. Although Lewiston representatives had supported the Lewiston-Wilson-Ridgeway route at the state meeting, and supporters of the Wisconsin group had expected some little difficulty, the meeting was harmonious throughout and was said to be one of the best roads meetings held in Wisconsin for years. Lewiston representatives urged the support of Wisconsin in improving the road from Lewiston to Wilson and also the routing of tourists over the Black and Yellow trail. Pledges of support toward marking the trail and raising $500.00 for advertising and boosting purposes were given by the various representatives. Theodore Carp started the fund with $75.00 and Fred Haveland, president of the Auto Dealers Association, pledged $50.00, which was followed by several individual subscriptions of $25.00 each.

Tours to Milwaukee
M. W. Twining, West Salem real estate man, is one of the first La Crosse county autoists to drive through this spring to Milwaukee. Various other autoists who tried to make the run were forced to abandon their machines, turn back or delay because of high water. Mr. Twining had to make 50 additional miles because of floods and negotiated the trip over Highways No. 21, 12 and 10. He left West Salem at 7:30 in the morning of April 16 and reached Milwaukee at 9:45 in the evening by way of Sparta, Baraboo and Madison. His Ford car burned 34 gallons of gasoline and two quarts of oil on the trip.

Camps Pay Dividends
One of the mooted questions in many cities and towns is, "Do camps

ing grounds for automobile tourists benefit the city and is money expended in providing comforts for tourists well expended?" The United States Touring Information Bureau, Waterloo, Ia., set out to find the answer and the following extracts from letters received from chambers of commerce and motoring publications tell the story.

Chamber of Commerce of North Platte, Neb., says: "Last year 2,085 cars night parked at the camping ground and in addition many parked for a few hours during the day. No charge is made except in event the tourists want to stay six days or longer, when a small fee is collected. The camp is located within a few blocks of stores, bathing beach, and shows. It is a valuable asset to the town and the money is well invested. It is considered by merchants as a real business getter. Eighty per cent of the tourists using the North Platte grounds are of good class."

From Clinton, Ia., comes the following: "Free public camping ground catered to 100 campers in a few weeks. Business men of town consider campers expended from $5,000 to $6,000 in grocery stores, ice cream parlors, moving picture houses, telegraph offices, oil stations, fruit stores, dry goods houses and garages. The community in general feels that the grounds are a valuable asset to the city and that without the grounds few tourists would stop over night."

Wisconsin Rules of the Road
Observance by the tourist of the following rules and hints will insure his passage through almost any city without interference by the law, but, to play safe, when in doubt, drive slow.

All traffic should move at right angles to the direction in which the traffic officer is faced.

Stop immediately upon the request of any police officer and give him such information as he may request from you.

To Pass Another Vehicle
Do not overtake another vehicle unless you can do so on the left.

When overtaking and passing a vehicle, pull over to the left until so far ahead as not to interfere with progress of the vehicle passed.

When you meet another vehicle, pass to the right.

Pass only to right of street cars. Before backing your car, give ample warning, and while backing use great care so as to not injure those behind.

To Turn
Do not back your machine to make turn in any street in congested district. You will interfere with other vehicles.

Do not turn unless you are sure such movement can be executed in safety.

When about to turn give plain visible signal to other upon the streets by extending the hand or otherwise.

Give a visible or audible signal if you slow up or stop, so those in the rear will know what to do.

Do not, when coming to a stop, apply your brakes too quickly. There may be a car behind you that cannot be stopped as quickly, and an accident may result.

When turning to the right, turn the corner as near to the right hand curb as possible.

Do not turn into another street to the left without passing to the right of and beyond the center of the street intersection before turning.

To Stop
Stop only with the right side to the curb.

Stop when you see any occupant of a horse-drawn vehicle in trouble on account of a fractious horse.

Do not drive your car without an adequate warning signal device.

Do not make any unnecessary noise with signal device.

In case of accident or collision with person or property, stop and give such assistance as you can. Report to police headquarters in the event of there being no officer present at the scene of accident.

Slowly moving vehicles should keep in single file as near to right hand curb as possible.

When some one tries to pass you he may have a reason, so do not take it as a challenge to race.

Always drive on the portion to the right of center of street.

The Right of Way
Do not attempt to drive through a funeral procession.

Street cars have right of way between cross-roads and cross-streets over all vehicles. When the motorist signals, turn out of the way.

At night, see that all your lights are burning brightly before you leave the garage.

Do not park your machine in front of a business house if owner or occupant of premises objects.

Do not hide your license tags behind extra tires or equipment.

Do not cut out the muffler.

Drive in a careful manner with all due regard for the safety of all other vehicles, pedestrians and your passengers.

Motor Regulations
A summary of the state automobile regulations follow:

No person under 16 years of age shall operate a motor vehicle within the state unless accompanied by an adult. Intoxicated persons shall never operate a motor vehicle.

Automobiles may be driven at a rate of 30 miles per hour except within the corporate limits of city, town or village, when local ordinance applies, but state law prohibits a greater rate than 15 miles per hour.

It is unlawful to pass any other vehicle going in an opposite direction faster than 10 miles per hour if more than three feet cannot be left between vehicles.

All vehicles passing in opposite directions shall pass to the right; any vehicle, motor or other, shall draw out to the right as soon as conveniently possible and permit the vehicle behind to pass if the vehicle signifies the desire by signal.

Motor vehicle drivers shall stop, and stop motor if necessary, at the request or sign of distress from the driver of horse-drawn vehicle, unless continuance in the course is necessary to avoid accident.

All drivers' rights are equal. You must not block the highway.

Every motor vehicle must be equipped with adequate horn or other warning device and brakes.

All motor vehicles must draw as near as possible to the right hand curb and remain stationary while fire department apparatus is passing.

It is unlawful to operate a motor vehicle without muffler in a village, town or city.

Motor vehicles must always stop behind street cars taking on or discharging passengers.

Headlight Law
The new automobile light regulations are summarized here.

Every automobile and truck shall be equipped with two head and one tail light.

Headlights shall throw, at 100 feet, up to 2,400 candle power at 60 inches from the ground; not less than 4,800 candle power at same point between the ground and 42 inches high, directly in front of the car. They shall throw not more than 800 candle power seven feet to the left and not less than 1,200 candle power seven feet to the right. Headlights shall be turned out and small lights shall be turned out and used in cities with streets upon which shall be posted signs notifying drivers that the streets posted are sufficiently well lighted to drive without headlights. Everywhere else regulation headlights are permitted.

Parked cars, in city or country, shall show a white light ahead and a red light in rear, visible 500 feet.

Spotlights may be used provided: They shall not throw a ray above the ground 50 feet ahead anywhere within an area of 45 degrees to right or left of the car; back to this space they may be used at will.

These rules apply 30 minutes after sunrise and until 30 minutes before sunset and are state law, hence applicable anywhere in the state.

"You children must finish your dinner!"

One of the first and most marked effects of Yeast Foam Tablets is to increase the appetite.

"If a growing child has no desire to eat, there is something serious the matter with him," says a noted specialist in the care and feeding of children. "A frequent and increasing cause of this failing or finicky appetite is lack of B-vitamin."

This vitamin is found in greatest abundance in yeast; and Yeast Foam Tablets are made entirely of pure, whole concentrated yeast.

Give your child Yeast Foam Tablets. Watch him improve. Note how his appetite returns; how he will grow, put on normal weight and increase his strength and endurance!

Why many foods are deficient

Many raw foods which originally contained vitamin lose this element through "preparing processes" such as milling of wheat and other grains; refining of sugar; heating foods to high temperatures; discarding of water in which food is boiled, etc. The vitamin B thus lost can be quickly replaced by the addition to the diet of Yeast Foam Tablets.

Is your child under the proper height or weight?

If your child isn't heavy enough or tall enough; if he is delicate, pale, irritable, backward in school, in all likelihood he is suffering from malnutrition.

This disorder retards children physically, mentally, nervously. It lowers their vitality and makes them easy victims of infection and contagion. Yet there are over 5,000,000 school children, from the homes of rich and poor alike, who are afflicted with it!

Weigh, measure and study your child. If he seems deficient in one or more respects, you may find Yeast Foam Tablets a simple and prompt corrective for his condition.

It doesn't cost much to use Beaver Board

We can supply you with enough of this flawless manufactured lumber to remodel the average room—walls and ceiling, for about fifteen dollars. And the work of application is quickly and easily done. Little sawing, practically no waste, and no mess or litter.

Whether you nail Beaver Board over old plaster or directly to studding in attics or unfinished rooms, the result is at once attractive and lasting. Walls and ceilings of genuine Beaver Board can't crack or fall. They never require repair. And the patented Sealite process by which the panels are sized gives you free rein in painting and decorating if you care to do either.

There are many ways in which you can use this economical building material in repair or remodeling work. Ask us to estimate on the cost of the Beaver Board you need. It places you under no obligation and you will be surprised how low our figures will be.

A phone call will bring us to your house, office, or store. Call us today.

PLEASING PROGRAM FEATURES WOMAN'S CIVIC CLUB MEET

Mrs. A. W. Warren is to be Hostess at the Annual Banquet of the Shakespeare Club

TOMAH, Wis.—The regular April meeting of the Woman's Civic Improvement club was held in the community rooms on Thursday afternoon, Mrs. H. J. Skinner presiding. Following the regular monthly business meeting a program including the following numbers was presented.

Community singing, Miss Esther Flaherty, leader.

Recitation, "The Littlest Rebel," Miss Rachel Kelley.

Recitation, "The Coward," Miss Mildred Anderson.

Vocal solo, Miss Flaherty.

Recitation, "The Death Disc," Miss Genevieve Gahower.

The annual banquet of the Shakespeare club will be held on Monday evening April 24, Mrs. W. W. Warren, hostess. Banquet committee, Mrs. W. E. Bosshard, program committee, Mrs. L. M. Comptons, Mrs. E. H. Drew, Mrs. H. J. Skinner, Mrs. Charles R. Williams, club president will preside at the banquet, which will be served by daughters of the club: Charlotte Williams, Helen Bartels, Mildred Anderson, Helen and Rachel Kelly.

On Wednesday evening, a meeting of all members of the local order of Myrtle Workers was held and business of importance to the chapter was transacted.

On Saturday afternoon the Bridge club entertained at a one o'clock luncheon. Mrs. F. M. Hart was hostess and covers were laid for twelve. Mrs. Lee Canfield of Sparta was an out-of-town guest. Duplicate auction bridge was the afternoon's pastime and was played at three tables.

Mrs. Howard Baker was hostess to the G. T. Club at her home on Wednesday afternoon. Sewing, a social hour and afternoon tea were pleasing features of the gathering.

An "old time dance" was held on Friday evening April 21, in the Armory. It was given by local unions No. 271 and No. 99. A large crowd was in attendance and excellent music was furnished by the Schneider-Rehberg orchestra. This is the third dance held in the re-modelled armory.

A Silver Tea was given on Wednesday afternoon by the Woman's Auxiliary, Elmer Grassman Post, American Legion. Proceeds of the function are donated to the benefit fund for the soldiers at Meadota.

On Easter Monday evening, the second dancing party held in the re-modelled armory was given by Headquarters Company 128th Inf. W. S. G. of Tomah. Proceeds of the dance are to be devoted to furnishing the company club rooms.

On Wednesday evening, the Tomah League of Women Voters was addressed by Assemblyman Miles N. Hippenman on the topic "Some Things Accomplished by the Last Legislature." The meeting was held in the Community room.

The Mond Card Club met on Monday evening at six o'clock with Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Lockwood. A picnic dinner was served by the ladies of the club after which "five hundred" was played at five tables. Favors for high scores were presented Mrs. A. E. Eldsmoe and Mr. H. H. Smith.

The H. B. T. Club met on Thursday at the home of Mrs. Bert Taylor as a pleasant reminder of the hostess' birthday anniversary. Supper was served after a social afternoon.

St. Mary's Guild was entertained on Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Charles W. Grotr. "Afternoon tea" was served by the hostess.

Miss Lucile Behrens was honor guest at a one o'clock luncheon given on her birthday anniversary by her mother, Mrs. Louis Behrens. Twelve guests were seated at a daintily appointed table, and the company enjoyed a social afternoon following the luncheon.

On Tuesday evening, Mrs. Alva McMullen was hostess to a circle of friends. Cards were the evening's pastime and were played at two tables. Lunch followed the cards.

On Thursday evening, Mrs. Elizabeth Seymour entertained the Thursday Bridge club at her home. Refreshments followed the bridge game eight members of the club being present.

The annual Monroe County Sunday school convention will be held in Tomah on May 18 and 19 in the Methodist and Congregational churches. This is the yearly "get-together sessions" of the Sunday schools of all denominations and an unusually helpful and interesting series of programs have been arranged.

A surprise Easter service was held at the Methodist church at seven o'clock on Sunday morning, April 16. Miss Joanna Chapman conducted the solemn service and the entire Epworth League was in attendance. Special Easter music was presented and the service was beautiful and inspiring.

Mrs. Jesse Meinicke and daughter, Winifred are visiting at the parental home of the former in Kilbourn.

Miss Vivian Tucker senior student in music at Marquette college, spent Easter with her parents. Mr. and Mrs. George Tucker.

Miss Florence Jack has returned to her school duties at Duluth Minn. after a week's visit at the C. W. Birkenmeyer home.

The Misses Florence O'Leary and Agnes Luchan, who spent a week at their respective homes in this city have returned to Augusta, Wis. where they are members of the high school faculty.

The Misses Leona Dewey, Florence Pressler, Thelma Brown and Mosses, Eugene Krueger and Lyle Johnson are spending the spring vacation of the Whitewater State Normal school in this city.

Mrs. Ella Finnerty spent the past week with her sons, Harold and Edwin Finnerty and their families.

Miss Katherine McNeil returned on Tuesday to her studies in Wisconsin University at Madison.

Mrs. Lula Fox and daughters, Laura and Florence are at home after a visit with relatives residing in St. Paul.

Mrs. Ben Nazam and son, Charles have completed a visit with relatives at Appleton and are again at their home in this city.

Mr. A. Kress and Miss Mae Kress are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kress at Sheboygan, Wis., and Miss Rose Kress at Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Wittum of Milwaukee, Mrs. Frank King of Chicago accompanied Mrs. Lillian Drew to this city on Monday and spent several days at the F. H. Drew home.

The Misses Evelyn and Anna Gould of Sparta are visiting their father Mr. Ernest Gould.

Mrs. L. A. Baumgarten is entertaining Mrs. John Jones and daughter who reside at Sparta.

Mrs. W. H. Boomer is entertaining Mrs. L. Culver and daughter of Baraboo.

Miss Ruth Kelly who has charge of the commercial department in the River Falls high school, spent the past week at her parental home in this city.

Lawrence Martin who is employed as the inspector for the Milwaukee railroad, left this city on Monday for northern Wisconsin.

Miss Margaret Bell was the guest of the Misses Elizabeth, Ruth and Louise Beebe during the past week.

Mrs. F. K. Charles Shreiner of Milwaukee and is again at her home in this city.

R&V Knight

(FORMERLY MOLINE-KNIGHT)

"It runs good today, but how about two years from now?" It is natural for a man to associate thoughts of decreased efficiency and deterioration with age and long service. For it seems a natural law—yet the Knight-type engine has been up-setting it for years.

Good at 5,000 miles, it is better at 10,000, still better at 25,000 and in its prime at 50,000 onward, due of course, to its absence of trouble-causing, expense-building poppet valves

The R&V Knight is built in four and six-cylinder sizes, and there are body types of adequate variety.

ART DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC LIBRARY IS KEPT ON TOES

Myriad Questions are Answered;
Who Painted First Pictures
is Among Calls

What did the goddess Hygeia look like?
Who painted the first picture?
What length pantaloons did children wear in 1850?
It would take thought and lengthy investigation for the average person to answer any one, let alone all three, of the above questions. But these are some of the things the La Crosse public library is called upon to answer every day, according to Lily M. E. Johnson, librarian, and that's why work at the library never grows monotonous.

to be used in the work of a class in physiology. The librarian searched in almost every anatomy before she found the picture required. Again, it took only one hour, but a great deal of hard work to find a picture of the goddess Hygeia, wanted for a leaflet cover in a health campaign; it took less time than that to answer the question: "What length pantaloons did children wear in 1850?" asked by an advertiser who planned a special series of clothing advertisements.

The public library fills calls for house plan research, information on interior decorating, finds on occasions "a more than lifesize portrait of a vicious looking man-eating ant"; provides books for dentists, who use books on ceramic art to aid them in planning dental porcelain work—has manifold activities and a myriad of calls for aid, according to Miss Johnson.

GERMANY TOO HAVING ITS TROUBLES WITH LIQUOR SMUGGLERS

HAMBURG.—Germany, like America, is engaged in a war with liquor smugglers. High customs duties and a dearth of "hard liquor." Instead of prohibition, is the incentive to smuggling here and the run-runners are able to sell their illicit goods at big profits.

Captains and crews of fishing boats are doing a thriving smuggling business in all ports on the German coast, say customs and marine officials.

Arrests of numerous skippers have not greatly interfered with the trade. Members of an organization known to have smuggled thousands of quarts of whiskey and gin into the country have been apprehended and punished but the manner in which they carried on their enterprise, believed to have been over a secret waterway, was not learned.

The offenders emphatically declined to give the authorities any information, some of them admitting they expected to continue operations as soon as they were released from jail.

The band was discovered when the skipper of one of its boats put into a small place on the Elbe, and sold his cargo of whiskey. For two or three days there was an epidemic of drunkenness in the community which caused authorities to investigate and resulted in the sailor's arrest.

Fishing boats engaged in liquor smuggling meet other ships by agreement at sea and take on their illicit cargoes.

Owing to the high customs and the dearth of "hard liquor" in Germany the smugglers are able to dispose of their wares at good profits.

A Beauty Treatment that makes curtains rival April's freshness

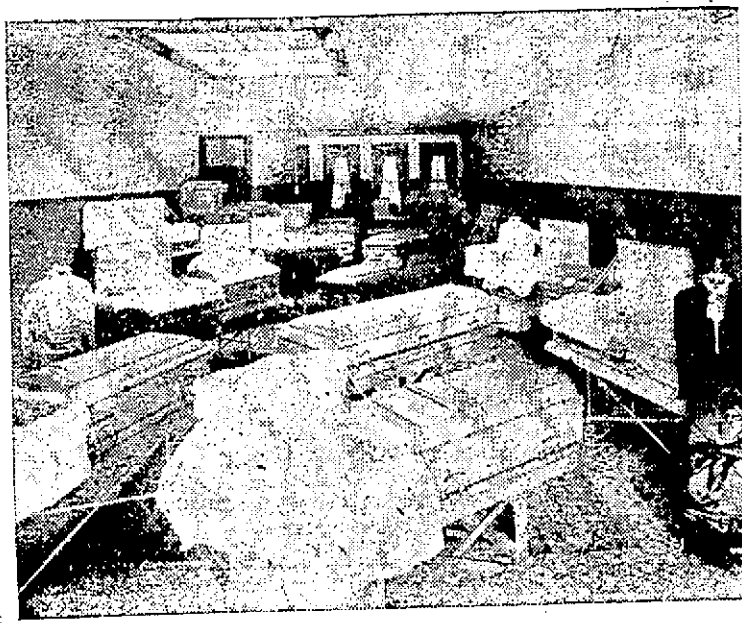

While April showers are doing Mother Earth's housecleaning, and making all the world fresh and lovely for spring, it is Curtain Month at the Modern Laundry. Of course, we can launder your curtains any time you wish throughout the year, but we have made special preparations for the month of April—or Curtain Month.

In washing your curtains we use April's very good suggestion—plenty of soft rain water. And our methods of making your curtains fresh and dainty, rival in care and skill those of a Beauty Parlor.

Curtains are gently patted down—no pinholes or hook marks mar their smoothness. Every curtain is dried exactly to its original size. The edgings and scalloped finished smoothly, daintily and evenly.

Phone 388 tomorrow. The Modern representative will call for your curtains. We'll give them a beautifying treatment that will make them rival Spring's own freshness.

We Are Showing the Most Complete Line of Funeral supplies in the city. Not only that, but the prices range from the most economical to the most elaborate.

But even with the reasonable prices, there is no suggestion of "cheapness." Not a particle of dignity and beauty has been sacrificed to make a price.

For instance, we are showing a Casket, covered with a good quality of black cloth, for as low as $55.00.

We also show a splendid line of Steel Caskets covered with silk plush in half-couch and full-couch styles.

A full line of robes and dresses.

"THE HOME OF BETTER LAUNDERING"

ANNOUNCEMENT

In obeying a sincere desire to render the highest possible service to motorists, we have accepted the dealership of FRANKLIN motor cars in La Crosse and vicinity. The present and future motoring public, we are confident, will agree that the sale of such fine cars as the Franklin will prove rich in consequent good-will for our organization.

Motorists today demand full value in service for every dollar expended for an automobile. They insist on knowing how the car is built, what it does and how far it will go toward meeting their motoring requirements.

From the start, the present period of careful, thoughtful buying has been marked in the Franklin organization by a remarkable sales record. Franklin sales during 1921 were 81% of 1920's high record against 59% for the industry.

These splendid sales indicate that Franklin performance is equal to the most rigid requirements placed upon it by exacting-car owners. Back of this performance is the company's faithful adherence to the original Franklin principles of lightweight, flexibility and direct air-cooling. The striking advantages of the car built on these three fundamental principles are known to Franklin owners in these economy terms:

- 20 miles to the gallon of gasoline.
 - 12,500 miles to the set of tires.
 - 50% slower yearly depreciation.
- (NATIONAL AVERAGES).

REO SPEED WAGON

Dear Sir: Every once in a while you will notice how one or two of your employees seem to make hard work out of everything they do.

That applies to trucks, too.

There are twelve other manufacturers who would like to call their trucks "Speed Wagons" but inasmuch as we have the rights to that name tied up, they do the next best thing and call them "Speed Trucks."

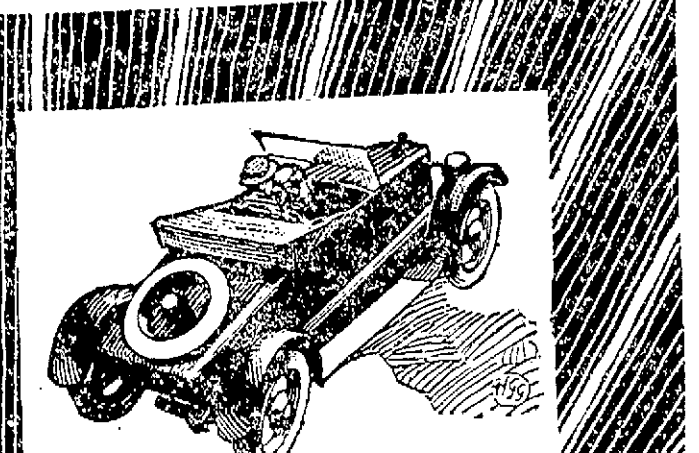

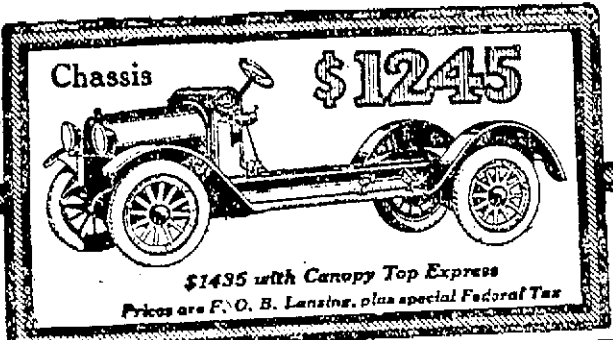

It is a fact that the piston in a REO SPEED WAGON travels 30 percent less while the truck is traveling a mile than the average of these other twelve—25 percent less than its closest rival—and 45 percent less than the truck that has the greatest piston travel.

This same ratio applies to the comparison of crank shaft bearing wear. Less motion, less wear.

The REO SPEED WAGON makes easy work of every job it tackles—it delivers the goods cheaper and quicker. Very truly yours,

The Walrus

The time has come the Walrus said
To talk of many things
Of shoes and socks and sea
Of crabapples and kingly.

(By C. A. W.)
It will probably interest a number of people in La Crosse to learn that the recent reduction in freight rates on coal authorized in this state amount to $1.50 a year, or about 75 cents per ton for every family in this city, computed on a net basis. These reduced rates are applicable to coal and coke shipped from the docks at Milwaukee, Superior, Green Bay and other points along the lake. Last year there were approximately 15,000 tons of coal and coke shipped from the Lake Michigan docks to La Crosse. The saving on hard coal is 37 cents per ton, on soft coal 15 cents and on coke 44 cents. May the good work continue.

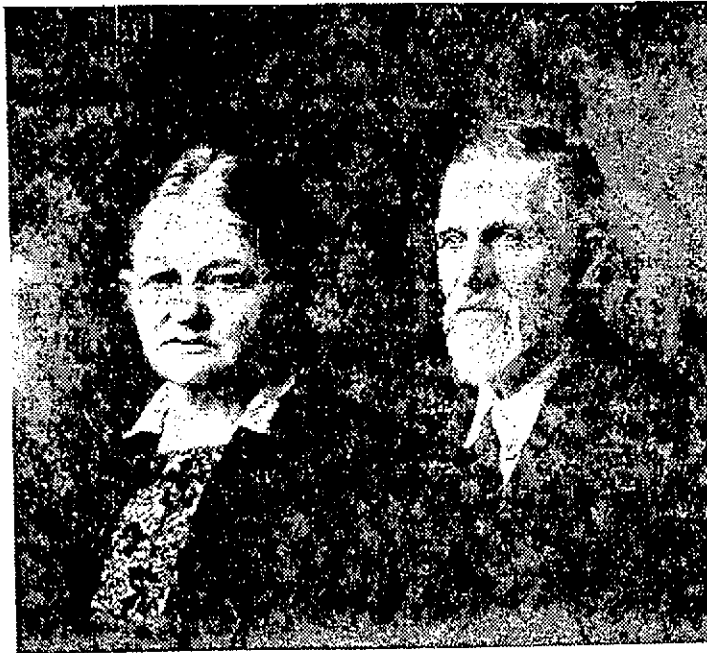

Word comes from Minneapolis that if Mrs. Peter Oleson of Clouet, Minn., democratic candidate for United States senator, beats Senator Frank B. Kellogg, republican, in the election next November, she is not going to congress alone. Peter is going to take the suitcase to the train and go right along with her to the national capital on March 4 next. Mrs. Oleson, who is remembered in La Crosse as the speaker at the annual meeting of the Community Council a few weeks ago, has let it be known that hubby is going to Washington, if she is elected, as her confidential adviser. "Mr. Oleson is my adviser in all things and would of course be with me in Washington," she said. "There would be no severing of home ties. My only child, Mary, is a junior in high school. She will be ready for college in 1923. Unless there should be an extra session of congress my activities down in Washington would not start until after she entered college. An ideal situation."

Don't get the idea that Mr. Oleson has resigned as superintendent of schools at Clouet. Far from that. But he is certain his better half is going to beat Senator Kellogg. And to Oleson to fulfill this ambition, Mrs. Oleson is preparing to barnstorm the state of Minnesota in good, old-fashioned political style. It won't be Mrs. Oleson's first speaking trip. For ten years she has been barnstorming the state almost every year for one cause or another—as an extension lecturer from the University of Minnesota, as a representative of the Red Cross and other patriotic organizations, as a pleader for the Minnesota Woman Suffrage Association, as a member of the Democratic National Committee in 1920, speaking before farmers' conventions, educational conventions and women's clubs. Minnesotans always turn out to hear her, too. Mrs. Oleson was born in Waterville, Minn., in 1855. In 1904 she was graduated from the Waterville High School. She attended Hamilton University, St. Paul, for a year. In 1906 she was married to Mr. Oleson. In 1920 she went to San Francisco as a Minnesota delegate to the Democratic National Convention. She was made a member of the national committee. Previous to this she was the only woman speaker at the national Democratic Jackson Day banquet in Washington January 8, 1920. And it is not that Peter will be mighty happy and proud to tote the suitcase to the train, if the goddess of luck fixes the ballot box for Mrs. Oleson next November. Some wife!

Another La Crosse citizen has heard the call of the great outdoors—and answered it. While rambling over the bluffs on the fine farm of Carl Heile, in Morgan Coulee, I ran across a clearing in the woods where trees had been grubbed out, the land filled and already planted with potatoes, and there was Gus Abraham, sleeves rolled up and hard at work, looking every inch a son of the soil, preparing the land for further crops. Talking with Gus, one becomes imbued with his enthusiasm for the new life. He is a wood-worker by trade, and a good one—but decided to move into the country during the summer months, so bought five acres from Carl Heile and immediately got busy. His plans for the future include an orchard, thousands of strawberry plants, and best of all, a pretty summer cottage on the site of his little farm. In my mind's eye I can see a picture of contentment... but there in the refreshing cooler breeze Gus and his amiable wife sitting before their little cottage, enjoying the beautiful sight across the valley below—listening perhaps to the call of the whippoorwill, or, who knows, the mournful call of a turtle dove in the denseness of the green slope above.

Discussing floods the other day in La Crosse, Superintendent C. F. Culver of high rescue fame declared that the folks in the gateway city don't know what floods are—that this region is in the river would look like a bubble in the back-yard down in Arkansas, La., where he and "Cap" Hugo Crasser of La Crosse have been engaged during the winter in supervising the propagation of buffalo, "bison in Louisiana," said the Culver, "all the children and boys swim—they have to if they want to live. I couldn't get close enough to the chickens to ascertain whether they have web feet, but I

MR. AND MRS. OLE WOLD CELEBRATE THEIR GOLDEN WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

MR. and Mrs. Ole Wold celebrated their golden wedding anniversary on Thursday at their home, 1403 Jackson street. With a number of friends and three of their children present the couple enjoyed a happy family reunion at the anniversary dinner on Thursday evening.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Wold were born in Norway and came to this city in the same year, 1867. They were married on April 20, 1872, by Judge Hubbard in the old city hall building then in the location of the "Battered Boy" goods store of the present time. Mr. Wold is 76 years old and both are in good health. Mrs. Wold is a daughter of Peter Bruum, who operated a tailor shop in La Crosse 50 years ago.

The Wolds have made their home in La Crosse since they were married. Mr. Wold having been engaged in building and teaming contracts for the past forty years. Nine children of which six are living, were born to the couple. They are: Albert M. Wold, Rickard, Montana; Mrs. Fred Steig, Norman, Montana; Mrs. Will J. Nichols, Minneapolis and Walter and William H. Wold, both of La Crosse. The latter three children were with their parents on their anniversary. Mrs. Gilbert Sand, Fargo, Minn., and Mrs. J. C. Melz, Richley, Montana, sisters of Mrs. Wold, were also here to join them on their anniversary celebration.

In fulfillment of a plan evolved during the winter carnival last January, the Krause Boosters has become a regularly organized society or fraternity, with initiation, dues and everything. Sixteen young women belonging to the organization drill for two hours every Tuesday night at the Eagles hall, and they now are able to put on a show which is worth going miles to see, knowing all the fancy steps and platoon movements which a drillmaster hired by the Krause Clothing company has been able to teach them. The company also pays for the rent of the hall. All the dues for the members, now numbering 25 pay, go for recreation and out-of-pocket expenses. The Krause Boosters plan to give two dances every year. The first will be a big event at Eagles hall next Tuesday night. "While the Krause Boosters was organized to advertise our business," said George Krause, "it will always be available to boost La Crosse, and in token of this fact each member wears La Crosse" on her uniform. The Krause Boosters will be there whenever any excursion or junket is taken to boost La Crosse. The uniforms worn by members of the drill team this summer consist of green knickers, white shoes, green jockey caps and white blouses.

The Krause Boosters is the name of a new organization in the city which is bound to attract attention the first time it appears in public.

CHILDREN'S PARTIES GAY AFFAIRS IN OLDEN DAYS BUDDING INTO SOCIETY

(By Mrs. C. S. Van Auker)
I make no exception to the statement that the boys and girls who grew up at the same time that I did had the most wonderful times of any set before or since.

In the summertime, there was a perfect round of children's parties and the children invited ranged from five to fourteen years of age. The number invited would be from fifty to one hundred. My mother gave a party for my brother and myself and invited ninety-two children. At that time, most every home was surrounded by three or four lots of ground. It was a beautiful sight to see a white with pink, blue and lemon sashes with colored and bronze shoes, or pretty slippers. I can recall large parties at the Stephen Martindale home, corner of Tenth and Cass streets, given for Anna, Steve and Neddie Martindale. At the Cophas Martindale home, which is now the residence of Mrs. Gaspard, on Cass street, Mrs. Martindale entertained for Mary, Fred, and Belle. Another was the silent party at the drug store of C. K. Martindale & Co. Mrs. firm of C. K. Martindale, who lived in the large home still standing on the southeast corner of Sixth and Kinross streets with its spacious grounds to the north, gave many parties for Lucia and Fanny. Mrs. C. K. Hancock, a sister of Dr. W. C. Hancock, who lived on the southeast corner of Ninth and Cass streets had two daughters, Nellie and Annie, for whom she gave parties. The old home was a Gothic structure, surrounded by elm trees and one very fascinating feature was the children's playhouse. The present generation knows Annie May, Nellie and the wife of Fred, Fred, Mr. and Mrs. Losey gave many children's parties for Mary, Fannie and Jessie. Mr. Losey spared no expense and would send to Chicago for confections. Mary Losey is now Mrs. Fred Easton. I can remember other large children's parties given by the Lismans, Still, Bliss, Wing, Dorsets, Chapin, Bat-

TROLLEY CONDUCTOR HAS A FLOCK OF 96 CANARIES IN HOME

A. L. Allen, Who Lives on Third Floor of Majestic Building is Making His Hobby Pay

ONE PET WAKES HIM EVERY MORNING; BETTER'N BIG BEN

Singers Shipped to Eastern Markets Find Ready Sales

ON the third floor of the Majestic building, just above the roar and rattle and bustle of Main street traffic is a canary "farm," where some of the finest bred songsters in the West are reared. They are the hobby and "side line" business of A. L. Allen, whose days and nights, or those parts of the 24 hours not given to sleeping and working as a street car conductor on the North side line, are devoted to his flock of birds.

All his life Mr. Allen has had canaries in his home. He says his parents had one or two canaries at the old home from the time of his earliest recollections. It was only about three years ago, however, that Mr. Allen surrounded himself with so many birds that his home took on the appearance of a thriving bird fancier's place of business.

In the collection of canaries are Solerit Rollers, German Rollers and St. Andrew's Rollers. St. Andrew's Rollers are the best of the lot. Mr. Allen declares, being the sweetest singers, the best mothers and the best for breeding. "Some of them, you know, are just like human beings," said Mr. Allen. "They won't attend to their nests and after they have hatched their young they neglect them to hop around the cage and to watch what is going on in the room. They, like many human beings, refuse to be tied down with family consisting of sandwiches, tea, biscuits, cold tongue and ham, pickles, loads of cake, cucumbers, kisses and ice cream brought at Mother's ready and nifty—the candy not complete without the hearts with their different sentimental notions—and lemonade.

Recalls Dancing Teacher
Then came the trolleys and the time when the above parties were held on the street. My first dancing teachers were a Frenchman and his wife by the name of Mr. and Mrs. Fischer. He taught the waltz, polka, mazurka, varsovienne, the gallop and redowa. In the afternoon class to which my brother and I belonged were Jenny Listman, Anna Bliss, Mary Eaton, Clara White, Fanny Webb, Marie Crosby, Alice Seymour, Homer Crosby, Abie Liverman, Charles T. Crosby, Frank and Joe Hixon, Ned Hainsome and Charles Benton. He had large evening classes and would let the younger ones come if they felt so inclined. In the evening we danced to a full orchestra but in the afternoon E. E. Blaskie played the violin. The next two years, a very popular dancing teacher by the name of Prof. Suerman held a dancing academy in the old hall, which was in the second story of the Redolf building situated near the Southwest corner of Third and Main streets. He introduced the Highland Schottische which we danced to the tune of "Going Through the Fire."

Thinking that the first party I attended where I could stay in the evening was given by Grace Thompson, now the widow of the late Thomas Ives.

Evening Parties Begin
Then the era of evening parties began. One of the most popular homes was that of C. B. Solberg. It is the brick house with the Mansard roof at the northeast corner of Ninth and Main streets. The third story was a ball room and many a dancing party and a German was given by Mr. and Mrs. Solberg for their daughter, Ida. The Solbergs having a large, ornate, sparkling expensive, Mrs. Anzous Cameron always entertained when her niece and nephews, Julia Dorsey and Fred Baker were visiting here. Many private dancing parties were given. The rooms in the houses were cleared of furniture and the floors scrubbed at the time. I can recall such at the Cron Crosby residence at North Third street which was torn down when the Northwestern railroad built its depot and tracks in that part of town; others at the paternal residence of Mons Anderson located at the southeast corner of Fourth and Cass streets; and at my own home which is moved to the rear of my present home at the northwest corner of Main street and West avenue. There were other dancing parties at the Bliss' (Cron), Gustafson's, Still, Dorset's, Martindale's, Wings, Hanscombe's, Davidson's, Law's, Manville's, Taylor's, Seymour's, Rodolf's and many others that I can not now recall.

The second story in the rear of the present Knights of Columbus clubhouse was built purposely for a ballroom by the Hon. Charles Seymour for his daughter, Alice.
Mr. Seymour was one of the pioneer journalists, owner of a Republican paper in 1859, served as postmaster from 1871 to 1882, and then was appointed by President Garfield as consul to China, which position he held for many years owing to his efficiency. Alice Seymour, who is now Mrs. David McEliffe of Victoria, B. C., occasionally returns to La Crosse

A. L. ALLEN AND HIS CANARY "FARM"

Mr. Allen, street car conductor on the North Side line, has ninety-six canaries, all of them blue bloods, in his rooms in the Majestic building. One of his pets is resting on his finger.

duites and are guilty of much neglect on the job," smilingly remarked Mr. Allen.
"Now there is the finest bird in the entire lot of 96," said Mr. Allen, pointing to a bright-eyed little feathered fellow who was watching him and seemingly understanding everything he said. "He is an excellent singer and looks after all the fun-thing in his cage. At one time he was feeding 16 little birds, whose mothers had abandoned them. I wouldn't take $75 for that bird."
The next prizes of Mr. Allen's flock are two birds that sang when they were five weeks old. Recently he shipped 50 female birds to Chicago to be sold at gift-shop prices.
At night Mr. Allen opens the doors of the cages and the morning finds the birds flying about the room and greeting the dawn day with outbursts of song. Mr. Allen says he is so used to their singing that it does not wake him up but he is aroused by one of the birds which has the habit of flying to his face and pecking gently at his nose until he wakes up. "I don't need a Big Ben with that fellow as a guest of Miss Helen Dorset. I did have a clipping that someone sent me of the names of the boys and girls who were invited to one of the large parties that Mrs. G. C. Hixon gave for her sons, Frank and Joe in the middle '80s but it has been mislaid much to my regret for it contained about all the young people of my age. It brought back many pleasing and sad memories. The real social center of the late '70s and '80s was at the Hill residence which stands in the rear of the northwest corner of Tenth and State streets. The greatest leader of youth that La Crosse ever had was Mary, or Mame, Hill as she was called. She was a little older than my immediate set but she never forgot her sister Fanny's friends. She was pretty, vivacious, versatile and certainly made the Weikins ring. One wonderful thing about the entertainments at the Hill home was that Mrs. Hill was welcomed by the young people to join in all of their festivities. Some of her intimate friends were Josephine Dennison, Bessie Moss, Lila Holway, Minnie Wagner, Agnes Roosevelt, Nannie Colwell, Nettie Stevens, Emma Anderson, Sam Anderson, Orinade Holway, Guy Peterson, Charles V. White, George Whitliss, Dan McArthur, Carl and Frank Junger, Will Crosby, Charles P. Cronin and Tobin Liverman. Many an impromptu dance or sleighride with an oyster supper was gotten up by her in a hurry.

Open House: New Years
The greatest event of the year was New Years, which held to the custom of keeping open house. Christmas was secondary among the older people in their preparations for the New Year Holiday. Houses were darkened, lighted with artificial light and decorated with Christmas greens. The ladies wore charming in modest evening dress with white gloves and stockings and corsage bouquets and greenhouse flowers. In many homes, a room would be canvassed for dancing and the different orchestras were in great demand. The refreshments were most elaborate, consisting of baked turkey, jelly, chicken, large hams browned with cloves here and there in the crust and the shank-bone fringed in white paper, chicken and shrimp salads, raw oysters in blocks of ice, fried and scalloped oysters, and cakes of all kinds. Coffee and chocolate were the beverages unless some old gentleman served a nip on the sly. One year we had a Wassail Bowl which my Aunt Annie supervised and recited little toasts and verses as some of the gentlemen drank to the ladies' health. She had learned many of these verses and toasts of a girl in England.

Wassail was a bowl of spiced ale which used to be carried about from house to house by young women in England. We had a new wooden chopping bowl decorated with festoons of green over the handle, filled with elder with bits of oranges and apples floating about. The original meaning of Wassail is "Be ye whole." One definition means a salutation or toast in which your health is pledged and toasted. But, by usage, it became a carouse or drinking bout. I do not think that there is much more that I can tell concerning the pleasures of those days.
Probably when I read this in print, I will think of many families with whom I came in social contact, but one's memory is not infallible.

Spanked With Cedar Boughs
The Finnish baths of Minneapolis are well patronized by the Finns of that vicinity, and part of it consists of a bedrobing with cedar boughs which have been steamed. This is applied to all parts of the body, and the sturdiness of the Finns is attributed largely to the stimulation that is derived from this operation. It is said in this the Finns have discovered the means of cleaning one's back and making it feel clean.

OPERATIVES BETTER EQUIPPED THAN EVER, ASSERTS CHIEF

"Three Trips and Out" Runners' New Slogan

GENERAL opening of motor roads, due within the next few weeks, will see prohibition agencies in Western Wisconsin better equipped than ever before to block and capture the liquor runner, according to J. Trisely Insull, chief of the federal prohibition agents now operating in Western Wisconsin, who said it is Chicago, not the Canadian border, that enforcement agents now look to for most of the illicit traffic.

"Three Trips and Out" Slogan
Inquiry "meanwhile from sources informed on the 'other side of the case' revealed that the average capture of the liquor runner has risen from next to nothing to one in three. "Three trips and out" is the slogan of the craft in the east. The confirmed also the belief that Chicago has become the whiskey fountain of the Northwest.

The force of deputies operating throughout Western Wisconsin under the direction of Insull has been increased recently until it has reached the proportions of a small sized army. Those who will be at Insull's command during the spring and summer campaign on the bootleggers and rum runners are: E. G. Skoro, Robert Schuch, J. J. Snarr, Pierre Ceder, Philip Hider, R. H. Burgo, Joseph Frosko, Oliver P. Zachas and Robert Zumtadt.

Prepared to Handle Border

Location of government yachts on Lake of the Woods is under consideration by the government, according to Insull, and would have an important effect on the liquor stream from Ontario in Minnesota and Wisconsin. "The government feels that it is now in a position to take care of the liquor traffic over the international border from Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta," said Mr. Insull. "Ontario still will give us some trouble but the revenue cutters on Lake of the Woods and on Lake Superior would reduce the transportation there materially."

La Crosse even would feel the effects of the government's proposal to station submarines in New York harbor for raids on liquor smugglers, according to Mr. Insull, as New York, he said, was the main source of supply for Chicago, which in turn is the fountain head for La Crosse and Western Wisconsin.

Chicago Chief Supply Source

"The change in the main stream from Canada to Chicago came about last fall," continued Insull. "Although it was partly due to bad roads north in the winter other factors are involved. It seems easier to start a shipment from Chicago than from anywhere else, either by railroad or motor car."

Means whereby the Chicago supply will be cut down this summer, Insull said, include:

The greater experience gained by operatives from their campaigns of last year and previous summers. Establishment of additional secret sources of information as to the departure of whiskey cars for La Crosse and the progress along the road. Increasing care being exercised by railway officials to prevent shipments of illicit whiskey as freight, disguised as some other commodity.

Despite the spread of suspicion that the powerful automobile which "burns up the road" is carrying liquor, the speedy motorcar still is the favored conveyance of the whiskey ring, said Mr. Insull.

"There are cases, of course, where some cautious runner attempts to disguise his venture as a camping outfit but that method is contrary to normal psychology," he said. "The runner knows that the evidence is in his possession and with a federal sentence staring him in the face, he is instantly eager to finish the trip and get rid of the whiskey or alcohol. He takes as liquor a car as he can get and runs it at top speed while he is on the road."

Constantly Smuggled in

With Chicago as first source of supply, from which the main streams of transportation are up through Iowa and by the Milwaukee route, Western Wisconsin liquor ring operatives also use roads from lake points north of Milwaukee, some even being run in from Duluth, Mr. Insull asserted.

"The Chicago liquor, he said, partly is Train supplies existing, there but far more from liquor constantly smuggled into the country at New York and smuggled straight west. He characterized Chicago as the widest open town in the country, next to New York, and also as a great source of northwestern supply.

LADYSMITH FARMER IS CANDIDATE FOR STATE SECRETARY

Summerville Announces He Will Seek Nomination on Citizens' Republican Ticket

MADISON, Wis. — Assemblyman United J. Summerville, Ladysmith, Saturday announced that he will be a candidate for secretary of state in the September primary election, subject to endorsement by the Citizens' Republican state conference, which meets in Milwaukee, June 1.

Mr. Summerville served during the last session of the legislature, as one of the leaders of the opposition to Governor Blaine. He is a "dirt" farmer, who has served as chairman of his county board and head of the district school board for several years.

In a statement accompanying announcement of his candidacy, Assemblyman Summerville said that "noticed by the newspapers that Senator La Follette had returned from Washington and dictated the speech which he was to make in the Wisconsin legislature, I also read the speech of Governor Blaine recently made in Milwaukee, in which he says that under the banner of the Committee of Forty-Four will be those men who are robbing the people of their gold, freedom and independence."

"The statements of Governor Blaine are as ridiculous as the dictation of Senator La Follette is un-American. As I work on my farm or cut brush on the back forty, I do not feel much like a plutocrat and certainly it is that I have seen no trace of that 'harlot' with the head knocked out. Further, no one has attempted to dictate to me whether or not I shall run for state office."

"As a free American I therefore announce that I am a candidate for secretary of state on the progressive republican ticket. However, I am a firm believer in the principles and considerations that gave rise to the Committee of Forty-Four, and I therefore say that my candidacy is subject to the decision of the delegates from the whole state. If someone else is decided upon at that convention, I shall take off my coat and do what I can to bring about his nomination."

ST. OLAF COLLEGE BAND IS FAMOUS TO APPEAR HERE

The St. Olaf College Concert Band of Northfield Minn., consisting of fifty-two pieces under the personal direction of J. Arndt Bergh will appear in La Crosse Wednesday, May 22 at the Normal School auditorium under the auspices of the young people's leagues of the St. Paul's, Our Saviour's and the Trinity Lutheran Churches.

The St. Olaf concert band is now in its thirty-first year. It has steadily grown in proficiency so that it has been recognized through the North-West as one of the best trained and most efficient bands in the country; and wherever it has played, it has won enthusiastic admiration and praise.

For the past seventeen years, the organization has made annual tours several extended tours including the one to Norway were made. Thirty-five concerts were given on the tour to Norway.

The band also made a tour of the western states, the objective of which was the Yukon Pacific exposition.

The music loving people of La Crosse from all press reports will hear a concert of the first class.

Officials are contemplating installation of a central heating plant in Tokyo, Japan.

SUCCEEDS HUSBAND AS CLERK OF THE TOWNSHIP BOARD

Mrs. Frank Schaller, Mother of Five Children, Takes Important Position

By appointment, Mrs. Frank Schaller recently became clerk of the township of Onalaska, this country, to succeed her husband whose death two weeks ago occurred, five days after his sixth re-election to that office.

Mrs. Schaller is the first woman in the county to hold that position. She is a graduate of the La Crosse high school and was a teacher in the country schools before her marriage eleven years ago.

Last November, Mrs. Schaller was chosen by the county board of supervisors as a member of the county library board in place of Mrs. Lilla M. Finch, resigned. She is the mother of five children.

Officers of Onalaska township who appointed Mrs. Schaller as clerk are Emil Knutsen, chairman, Owner Terpstra and Henry Hauser, supervisors.

GIRL RESERVE ACTIVITIES

TIME in its flight was turned backward for Vocational School Girl Reserves Wednesday evening, when the club barked back to the days of childhood and enjoyed a "children's party." Costumes were in keeping with the occasion, the prizes for the best going to Irene Gerky and Sylvia Silla. Amusement of the "days of real sport" were in order, and refreshments consisted of ice-cream cones, all-day suckers, stick candy and other delights dear to kid days.

At the meeting of the Hogan School corps, following the business session, book reports were given by Frances Burgess, Dorothy Jacobs, Flora Adams and Helen Howard. Talks on the life of Joan of Arc were presented by Mabel Utsum and Helen Baumann, the latter also speaking on the life of Florence Nightingale.

It was to prove ability and enduring qualities far beyond what any light car had ever shown that Essex made the tests resulting in its famous world's records.

But performance and reliability are not its only appeal. Its beauty of line and luxury of appointment are the work of years of leadership in car design. See the care and completeness even in the smallest detail. Its riding comfort and smooth, quiet running ease are qualities you will compare with high-priced cars. Yet Essex also gives light car advantages such as unusual tire, fuel and oil economy.

Judge it, not by the light car standards you have known, but by the much more exacting requirements of the large, costly cars. That is what makes its price all the more wonderful.

RAILWAY ACCIDENTS CAUSE DEATH OF 249 IN THE PAST YEAR

Number is Two More than in Previous Year; 62 Die on Grade Crossings

MADISON, Wis., April 22.—More persons were killed in Wisconsin railroad accidents in the fiscal year 1920-1921 than in the previous year, according to statistics made public today by the state railroad commission. The number killed was 249, two more than in the preceding year.

On the steam railroads there were 202 deaths resulting from train accidents, non-train accidents, and grade crossing fatalities with an additional total of 2,826 minor injuries from the same causes. Of the deaths from train accidents on the steam roads 25 of the killed were employees, 43 trespassers, and 71 non-employees. The number injured from the same causes were 681 employees, 21 trespassers, and 334 non-employees.

In the electric roads there were 125 accidents of which 332 were train accidents. Of those killed one was an employee, six were trespassers, and 31 non-employees. Forty employees were injured, 6 trespassers, and 124 non-employees. Three were killed at public grade crossings on these roads and 31 injured. Of the non-train accidents one employee and two non-employees were killed while 215 employees and 8 non-employees were injured.

More persons were killed and injured during the last year of data than in the preceding year on steam railroad grade crossings. In 1919-1920 58 were killed and 185 injured while in 1920-1921 there were 62 killed and 189 injured.

Fewer trespassers were killed in the last year than in the preceding year with 49 killed last year compared to 53 the preceding year; while more trespassers were injured last year, the ratio being 36 to 20.

THINGS MUSICAL

By H. MARGARET JOSTEN

PIRATES OF PENZANCE

Preparations for the presentation of the Gilbert and Sullivan opera, the Pirates of Penzance, by the clubs of the High School are going forward rapidly. Miss Trane, who is directing the production, has been making the most of the time since the first presentation in New York in December 1879. It is one of the few operas of note to have its first production in America. This means was taken to protect the rights of composers and publishers in future American productions of the work.

Though the first act was written and the entire opera scored in this country, it was not published until Gilbert and Sullivan returned to England. It received its first presentation there at the Opera Comique in London in April 1880.

The opera has had many revivals on the professional stage and has been from the first a favorite for amateur production. It was given in La Crosse in 1912 under the direction of Miss Ida McLean, then supervisor of music in the public schools. The chief roles were taken by Harry Marshall, Winifred Forbes, Harry Hirschheimer, Eleanor Schneider.

Another La Crosse man has a much older recollection of an amateur presentation of the opera. Forty years ago Captain W. A. Thompson was one of the choruses of "pirates" in the Pirates of Penzance when it was given by local talent of Rock Island. The production was coached by Major Hoffman, who was assisted by Jessie Partlet Davis, the actress, then a young girl living in Davenport.

FARRAR WILL OPEN BIG MUSIC FESTIVAL

The week following the appearance of Geraldine Farrar in La Crosse she will be the soloist at the opening concert of the famous annual North Shore Music Festival at Evanston, Illinois. The Chicago announcement states that Geraldine Farrar, the "leading dramatic soprano of the Metropolitan Opera," will be the "big star of the occasion." "This will be Miss Farrar's first appearance in Chicago or suburbs for a number of years and her first appearance at these festivals. Miss Farrar will make three appearances on the program in many songs with piano accompaniments. Claude Gellihue will be at the piano."

Farrar recently sang what was understood to be her last appearance in opera in Philadelphia giving what was said to be an inspired impersonation of Madame Butterfly. Said the reviewer, "All was gentleness, endearing, wistful and clinging—in fidelity to the ideal which Miss Farrar in creating the role made an object of laborious study. The audience was genuinely stirred. Defiant of the rules of the Academy of Music, Farrar devotees threw a fusil-

"The Black Panther's Cub" Starring Florence Reed

AND EXTRAORDINARY CAST OF BROADWAY STARS
No independent picture in the entire history of the screen drama boasts of such an assembly of brilliant stage stars as you will see in W. K. Ziegfeld's quarter of a million dollar spectacle—"THE BLACK PANTHER'S CUB."

Scenes of splendor, from the ancient arenas of Rome with their sensational gladiatorial combats to the quiet English countryside, the wild dances of the Apaches in Paris—the lavish homes where wealth and love are chased—all this and more you will see in a succession of startling scenes, all told in a gripping story of the power of "good over evil."

It's the photo drama in which the great Florence Reed plays four distinct roles, which the National Board of Review characterized as "Done in a manner recalling the acting of a Sarah Bernhardt or a Modjeska."

J.P. McGOWAN THE RUSE OF "THE RATTLER"

TWO MADLY GALLOPING HORSES!
TWO SWIFT, FEARLESS RIDERS!

The horses came abreast. There was a short, sharp struggle. Both riders fell, and crashed down the hill. Pursued and pursued faced each other. One was "The Rattlesnake," a notorious bad man. The other was—a girl!

It was the beginning of a strange romance; of a breathless, thrilling story of plot and counterplot in a lawless country.

"PENROD," SUNDAY AT RIVOLI, LOOKS LIKE A REAL THRILLER

To thousands of men who are still young enough to remember their boyhood and secret societies of their capers, there is a delicious treat coming in Marshall Neilan's presentation of "Penrod," which will open at the Rivoli theater on Sunday.

"Penrod" is the film adaptation of Booth Tarkington's inimitable boyhood creations and the presentation at the Rivoli theater marks the first screen appearance of Penrod in one complete film. The picture furnishes a vivid reminder of boyhood days with its opening scenes taken in the headquarters of the American Boys' Protective Association.

This is a secret society of which Penrod is the charter member and president. It has its headquarters in a cave dug into the ground and enlarged to provide kneeling room for the thirty disciples of the freedom of American boys. The organization has "mishashions," "symbols," "grips" and all the typical black crossed bones of all secret societies and pirates.

Thursday, Bebe Daniels Picture lovers who are in the habit of thinking of Bebe Daniels as a fascinating little mad-cap, always up to pranks, will be interested in seeing how she handles a straight romantic role, that of a wistful little country deicide who had never had any fun and was too much afraid of the ugly fangs of her guardians ever to have an impulse of light-hearted mischief.

Such is her role in "Nancy From Nowhere," which opens Thursday at the Rivoli. Nancy was an orphan who had been adopted by a low pair of young men fishing in her neighbor hood, and told him her troubles. He advised her to run away.

So Nancy did—on the back of his own car, that very afternoon! And when he reached home and discovered his duty and discolored little passenger, there was nothing for him to do but take her in and try to help her out of her predicament. Unfortunately the young man's fiancée got wind of his impetuous charity, telegraphed to his absent parents, and there was a good deal of trouble for poor Nancy.

BILL FARNUM'S BIG "PERJURY" ON MONDAY AT MAJESTIC THEATER

Three characters in one may be said to be Eileen Percy's part in "Hickville to Broadway," the Fox picture in which the beautiful young star will be seen Sunday at the Majestic. The story is one in which a charming little village belle finds reason to test the loyalty and strength of character of her fiancé, the village druggist—who is determined to visit New York and look over the gay side of life. The girl, following him to the city, adopts two disguises. She first appears there as a famous artist's model, then as a veiled woman of wealth and social distinction. In each of these disguises she meets her sweetheart from "back home," and subjects him to the acid test of flirtation.

Farnum on Monday "Perjury," with William Farnum, which enjoyed a sensational run in a Broadway, New York, theater, will begin an engagement Monday at the Majestic theater. During its run on the most famous entertainment thoroughfare in the world, New York reviewers declared that no more gripping photodrama had been shown since the presentation of William Victor Hugo's "Les Misérables."

Robert Moore, the hero of "Perjury," like Jean Valjean of "Les Misérables," is a kindly and lovable man who, through a shocking combination of circumstances, is compelled to serve a long term in prison. It provides the famous Fox star with wonderful opportunities to display his well-known power of expressing human emotion and pathos. Those who have seen the photodrama declare it to be unsurpassed in intense human interest.

Foreign Play Thursday

Nadia Ostrowska, who plays opposite David Powell, the featured player in "The Mystery Road," a new Paramount picture filmed in London and in southern France, which comes to the Majestic theater next Thursday, is a well known London stage beauty of exceptional mimetic talents. The story largely deals with the trials of Myrtle Sargent, portrayed by Miss May, a little French peasant girl, before whose cottage stretches a long white road, which, blank as that of her future, beckons her on with its suggestion of mystery and romance. Her mother having died and her drunken father being anxious to marry the keeper of a low cabaret, he determines to dispose of the girl by marrying her to Pierre Naval, a stolid, drunken boor, quite unfit to be the mate of any charming girl. In flight down "The Mystery Road," she seeks freedom and meets her fate. David Powell has the leading role.

COLA NEGRI REIGNS AT "BIG HOUSE" NEXT SATURDAY AND SUNDAY

Standing at the head by her profession in Europe, Cola Negri, the famous screen actress, is said to have a superb role in her latest Paramount picture, "The Red Peacock," which will be shown at the La Crosse theater next Saturday and Sunday. Miss Negri created a furore in "The Last Days of Pompeii" and her last previous vehicle was "The Last Days of Pompeii," in which she recently scored a veritable triumph. Miss Negri appears as a flower girl, who having a cruel and drunken step-father, is forced to quit the hotel in which they live and make her own living as a fate will. She meets a young play-wright who takes her under his protection and their happiness is interrupted when his father and sister plead with her to give him up. Later they meet again in dramatic circumstances, the nature of which it would be unfair to reveal. It is sufficient to say that the culminating situation is one of the strongest ever seen in a motion picture.

AT THE STRAND

Bert Lytell, star of "The Right That Failed," the Bayard Veiller production for Metro which will be seen at the Strand theater Sunday, again has a role that demonstrates his versatility. This time he comes as a prize fighter of the high-brow school; one who, to quote "Luisy Ashford," is "almost a gentleman, but not quite, but you could scarcely notice the difference, and it didn't matter any more."

"The Right That Failed" brings Mr. Lytell back to the light comedy vein in which he made his first big success as a Broadway star on the speaking stage.

The cast supporting him in "The Right That Failed" includes Virginia Valli, De Wit Jennings, Otis Harlan, Philo McNough and Max Davidson.

CASINO TODAY

"The Rattlesnake," they called him, because, like the reptile, he never struck before rattling a warning. However, also like the reptile, you had little chance after that warning. He was a bad man, but he played fair, and when he was "commissioned" by Henry Morgan (who never did any dirty work) he could hire the other fellow to do it to turn the Sandersons out of their home, he resigned on the job.

The reason was that he had looked deep into the beautiful eyes of Helen Sanderson, and read there such courage, determination and truth strength was powerless before her challenge. From that moment some divine intuition told the girl that he was her champion, though this was often hard for her to believe. That was because "The Rattlesnake" but a double game to play until he could come out in the open.

The "Ruse of the Rattler" presents J. P. McGowan in what is said to be his best Western thriller.

AT THE RIVIERA

Florence Reed, Broadway's favorite actress, who is now at the zenith of her dramatic powers, plays four different characters in the big W. K. Zieff photodrama, "The Black Panther's Club," which is soon to be shown in this city. Based on Swin-burne's immortal poem "Faustine," the story of "The Black Panther's Club" is woven about the underworld life of Paris, with occasional flashes of quiet countryside life in England.

"The Black Panther's Club" is a story of unusual proportions with a wealth of dramatic action, scores of colorful and varied scenes, a fast moving plot and a thread of romance that terminates in one of the strongest emotional scenes ever shown on the screen.

IDENTIFY BODY OF WOMAN DISCOVERED IN MOVING VAN

CHICAGO, Ill.—The body of a woman found in a moving van Friday has been identified as that of Mrs. Annie Carwell, a widow living on the south side.

Police are holding Thomas Roche, white, street car conductor, and Russell Mosby, negro janitor. Roche confessed he beat the woman with a revolver in his apartment after he and Mosby had attacked her, but said her death resulted from poison she swallowed. The coroner said no trace of poison was found in the body.

Mosby confessed, the police said, that after he and Roche had stripped the body of its clothes, they dragged it to the van and hid it. Roche said he met the woman on the street and she accompanied him to his rooms where they spent two days drinking before her death occurred.

KLEEGER RELIEVED FROM LIABILITY IN SEIZED CAR MONEY

Cash Turned Back to Sheriff; Attorneys File Stipulations Eliminating Court Clerk

L. Kleeber, clerk of the circuit court, named as co-defendant with Sheriff J. D. Miller in the suit instituted by Rudolph Wilder for the refund of the sale of the automobile, seized by run runners, Wilder claims to hold a mortgage on the car. Kleeber was named in Wilder's suit because the sheriff had turned the sale money over to him. Stipulations filed by District Attorney Rold and F. E. Withrow, attorney for Wilder, late Saturday, agreed to the elimination of Kleeber from the suit. No answer to the complaint has been made by the sheriff as yet.

A Wistful Girl's Timid Smile

Plaintive beauty, dainty grace and winsome figure stirred the pulse of a rich nobleman whose hirelings stole her away from her blind sister and took her to his midnight fete. A handsome young aristocrat lost his heart, avenged her with his sword, took her to safety. She met another—a leader of the People. He, too, loved her! The fatal duel in the midst of the gorgeous splendors of a regal orgy as thousands of the starving rabble clamored at the palace gates; the love of the young aristocrat for the country-bred Henriette, and the love she inspired in the heart of Danton, leader of the uprising against the French Monarchy—These things, each punctuated by a kiss, formed a chain of circumstances that quickened the seditious People into open and armed rebellion—that brought the Fall of the Bastille—the "Feast of Reason" when all Paris went mad—the "Dance of the Carmagnole" when woman led the wild revelry. Then came the Commune—the Reign of Terror—the Guillotine—the downfall of Danton, leader—the sentence of death—the reprieve—Peace! And so, all because of Love, a King was deposed, a great monarchy fell, a great republic came into being.

WILLIAMS CONNECTS FOR THREE HOMERS IN SATURDAY GAME

St. Louis Left Fielder Cracks Circuit Drives With Sister on Each Time

DUGAN RESPONSIBLE FOR RED SOX WIN OVER MACKS

Tigers in Win from Indians, 3 to 2

ST. LOUIS, Mo.—Three home runs by Left Fielder Kenneth Williams with Sister on base each time featured the locals 10 to 7 victory over Chicago here Saturday. Williams smashed out his circuit drives in the first, sixth and seventh innings.

"Rixie" Davis and Urban Shocker held the White Sox to four hits but twelve bases up balls and a homer by Hooper with Johnson and Collins on base accounted for the seven runs scored by Chicago.

Score: R H E Chicago... 000 003 004—7 4 3 St. Louis... 000 001 213—10 12 1 Batteries—Acosta, Davenport and Schalk; Davis, Shocker and Seaver.

Red Sox, 7; Macks, 1. PHILADELPHIA, Pa.—The former Athletics third baseman, Joe Judge, Saturday was mainly responsible for the seven to one victory of Boston over the Philadelphia Americans. Judge's home run into the bleachers with two men on in the first inning gave a visitor lead which was never checked. Score: R H E Boston... 001 000 012—7 13 3 Philadelphia... 000 000 000—1 7 1 Batteries—Karr and Walters; B. Harris, Moore and Perkins.

Tigers, 3; Indians, 2. DETROIT, Mich.—Vench's double in the ninth, scoring Hanger, who also had doubled, gave Detroit his second straight victory over Cleveland here Saturday, 3 to 2. A recruit pitcher from Syracuse, worked well for the Tigers for the second inning, until he was forced to give way for a pinch hitter.

Score: R H E Cleveland... 020 000 000—2 7 1 Detroit... 000 000 001—3 12 2 Batteries—Tibbe and O'Neill; Green, Philoff and Bassler.

DISAPPEARANCE OF NIAGARA

If you have never seen Niagara Falls you had better get busy. It's going to dry up in a thousand years. It may last a little longer. Perhaps another thousand on top of that according to Prof. Douglas W. Johnson, of Columbia university. Niagara Falls had already receded seven miles since the birth of the world. Because the retreat of the Canadian side of the falls is much more rapid than that of the American side, the American falls will go entirely dry when the Canadian falls have worked their way back to the upper end of Goat Island. At the present rate of retreat this should happen one or two thousand years from now, he said. The Niagara river of a still more remote future will be far less picturesque than the river as we know it now.

TOURIST CAMPS AND FIREPLACES

The state conservation commission of New York has arranged ten new public camps and 47 fireplaces in the Adirondacks for the use of automobile tourists desiring to stop at these places over night. These will be ready for use during the approaching season. The camp sites serve a double purpose in assisting in the increased use of the forest preserves by the public for the purpose of recreation and in the protection of the forests from fires by providing safe and suitable places for campers to build their fires so that these fires are less likely to spread and to do damage to the woods. These camps more than pay for themselves in the prevention of fires every year. In addition to this work the commission has also cleared 100 miles of trails making the woods more accessible to vacationists.

NELSON CLUB OUT FOR SECOND PRACTICE TODAY OPENER TWO WEEKS AWAY

THE second weekly practice of the Nelson clothing company baseball club will be held at Copeland park Sunday afternoon beginning at 2 o'clock, according to announcement of officials on Saturday.

Whether a practice exhibition game would be played on Sunday as was announced earlier in the week or officials Saturday were unable to state. While no regular club has been scheduled it was hoped that the turnout would be large enough to permit of an exhibition game.

Make Clean Sweep of Series With Cincinnati on Saturday, 3 to 1

DOGGERS LAND VICTORY AS RYAN FALTERS IN 7TH

Pirates Wallop Cards in Heavy Hitting Game

CHICAGO, Ill.—Chicago went in to first place Saturday by making a clean sweep of the series with Cincinnati, 3 to 1, while New York lost to Brooklyn. Laque's wildness, coupled with erratic fielding and timely hitting gave the locals the final game. Score: R H E Cincinnati... 000 000 000—0 6 2 Chicago... 001 011 003—3 7 3 Batteries—Laque and Wingo; Osborne and Farrell.

Dodgers vs. Giants 3. BROOKLYN, N. Y.—After holding Brooklyn to two hits in six innings Saturday, Ryan blew up and the Dodgers bunched three hits with a three passes and a sacrifice fly for a five to three victory over New York. When Wheat and Meyers opened the seventh with singles, Manager Robinson rushed out three left-handed pinch hitters, all of whom received bases on balls. Score: R H E New York... 102 000 000—3 9 0 Brooklyn... 000 000 003—5 6 2 Batteries—Ryan, Shea, Causey and Smith; Grimes and Miller.

Pirates 14; Cards 2. PITTSBURGH, Pa.—By heavy hitting the Pirates easily defeated St. Louis Saturday, 14 to 2. Rohrer hit into right field bleachers in the fourth inning for a home run. Score: R H E St. Louis... 100 000 001—2 8 4 Pittsburgh... 221 402 123—14 17 0 Batteries—Haines, Bailey and Clemens; Anshutz, Morrison and Goetz.

PHILLIES vs. BRAYS 2

BOSTON, Mass.—Marquard's wildness, Kopf's error, Markinson's long triple to center and Hohlman's single gave Philadelphia five runs in the first inning against Boston Saturday, the visitors eventually winning, 9 to 2. Score: R H E Philadelphia... 800 000 400—3 8 1 Boston... 001 100 000—2 8 2 Batteries—Rinz and Aguilera; Marquard, Oeschgen, Watson and O'Neil.

WISCONSIN BEATS GOPHERS 8 TO 1

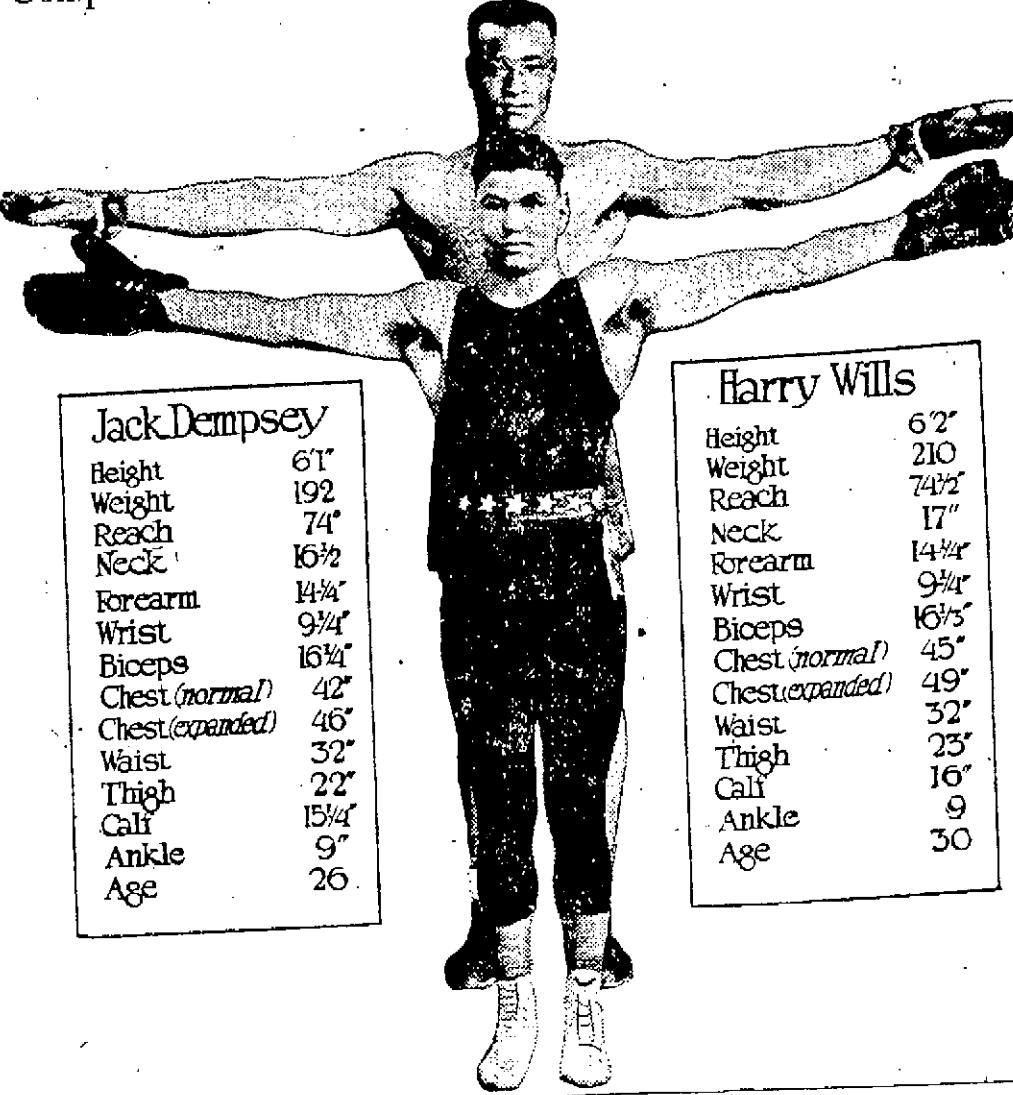

MADISON, Wis.—Wisconsin defeated Minnesota, 8 to 1, in a western conference baseball game here Saturday. Minnesota men made eight errors and the Badgers pounded Schwelke hard, scoring runs in the first inning.

SPARTA POST PLANS A BIG HOME-COMING EVENT ON JULY 3-4

Letters Written to Former Residents to Come Back to Bay-hood Tote for Celebration

SPARTA, Wis.—The Orville L. Arnold Post, American Legion is working hard on plans for a big home coming event to be held in Sparta on July 3 and 4. All the Posts in the neighboring towns were commun-icated with and their attitude in the matter was asked. Almost without exception, the answers came back, favoring Sparta's Home coming, and offering hearty support. As far as is known, there will be no celebra-tions near here, with the exception of one at New Lisbon and one at Viroqua.

Commander M. J. Lanham has ap-pointed committees to take charge of the various sides of the arrange-ments and all are hard at work. Nothing will be spared to make this one of Sparta's greatest events. Letters will be written to former residents in all parts of the country and an effort will be made to get such notables as Governor Du Sable of California and John J. Esch, of La Crosse, to come to their bay-hood home and help in the big cele-bration. Everyone is asked to help in this undertaking of reaching the large number of former residents scattered everywhere and send them an invitation to the Home coming.

A contrast has been let with the Western Vaudeville Managers as-sociation for two first class attractions, both of which will show twice daily. One of these is the Marriott Mono-Troupe, including five people with a monoplane stunt and juggling act. The other is the "Lancer Comedy Company, clown and gag rope per-formers. Both of these will show twice daily during each day of the Home coming celebration.

The Kiwanis club has been asked to give its endorsement to the plans for the celebration and will doubtless be ready to back the Legion Post. Commander Lanham expects every member of the Post, numbering about 120 on some committee so that every one will have some work to do, and as the time is short for such an undertaking, everyone will have to respond with a will. Many of the nearby towns, which had planned to celebrate the Fourth, signified willingness to put off celebra-tion for a year and join heartily in making Sparta's Home coming a great success.

VIROQUA DEATHS

VIROQUA, Wis.—The funeral ser-vice for James Potts who passed away at his home in La Crosse on Wednesday evening, was held at the Methodist church in this city on Friday afternoon. Rev. Harris of-fered the service. Mr. Potts was a former resident of Viroqua, living here for many years before moving to La Crosse. He is survived by the wife, one daughter, Mrs. Earl Seaton of La Crosse, and two sons, Dennis and Willard, the former son, also a resi-dent of La Crosse. A sister, Mrs. Jesse Silbaugh, and two brothers, John and Thomas, reside in Viroqua. Also several nieces and nephews. The Woodmen lodge, of which the decessed was a member, attended the fun-eral in a body.

Wilson Mills
After a brief illness Wilson Mills passed away at his home in this city on his eighty-sixth year. He was an early pioneer of Wisconsin, and a civil war veteran. He was a mem-ber of the 42nd Wisconsin regiment. Funeral services were conducted at the Christian church and interment made at Revere on Thursday. Sur-viving are three daughters and three sons.

Mrs. T. Tolleffson
Mrs. Tolleff Tolleffson, another pio-neer resident of Vernon county, passed away at her home in this city after a several months illness, which followed a stroke of paralysis. The husband and large family of children survive.

BIG FIGHT FILMS GIVE FINE IDEA OF GREAT MATCH

Study in Contrast Afforded in Motion Pictures of Fight at La Crosse Theater

Looking at a boxing contest from a seat at the ringside, and seeing motion pictures of the same event, evidently are quite different. From all accounts, the pictures have the best of the argument, for the eye of the camera is sure and certain, and leaves no doubt nor room for argument.

A distinct study in contrast is af-forded local lovers of sport in the Tex Rickard motion pictures of the Dempsey-Carpentier fight now being shown at the La Crosse Theatre. Hundreds saw them at Saturday's opening.

To see these pictures is to get a much better, more all-around view of the two fighters than was possible from a $50 seat at "Boyle's Thirty Acres" in Jersey City on July 2nd. One at least will be able, thanks to the slow-motion camera, to see the difference between the two men and study the tactics employed by each. Georges Carpentier, the hero of Lens, France, looks much more like a high-school athlete than the champion of Europe, as he leaps from his corner at the bell and flings his rapier-like left fist to the face of the champion of America. Jack Dempsey, in spite of his ap-parent bulk and grimmer muscle, proves himself as agile and as panther-like as his graceful oppo-nent. The Frenchman, always alert and eager for the fray is so lacking in aim that his well meant blows go over his adversary's shoulder and waste their force on the air. The steady, plodding, implacable Demp-

Your Dentist Knows the importance and value of the PEX Tooth Brush in prevent- ing Pyorrhea and decay of the teeth—

- (1) because its size and shape make it easy for you to clean both inside and out-side of the teeth thorough-ly, seeking out and remov-ing the deposits that cause decay and infection.
- (2) because it comes to you steril-ized and sealed, preventing anyone from "thumbing" the bristles with a diseased or filthy thumb.
- (3) because the PEX Chart for Cleaning the Teeth comes with each PEX Brush.
- (4) because it has Individual Markers and Aluminum Cover and Cleaner.

PEX Dental Cream should be used with the PEX Tooth Brush for it keeps the gums firm and healthy—the teeth white and clean by dissolving the film that holds the particles of food.
